

Department of Integrated Child Protection Scheme
Statement released to condemn the insensitive Raakhi products making fun of Adoption

August 1,2020

We strongly condemn the Raakhi products being marketed on the Amazon.in site, which treat adoption as a joke and being sold as an "opportunity for brothers and sisters to tease each other". Such products are highly offensive and have outraged the adoptive community because of the insensitivity and the potential they have to hurt adopted children.

The Directorate of Integrated Child Protection Scheme, Govt of Karnataka demands immediate withdrawal of these products and requests consumers to boycott such offensive merchandise.
